

Meet Labour CND

Labour Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament is a ‘specialist section’ of CND, a caucus of CND members who are also members of the Labour Party and work to promote the aims of CND within the party. Our Annual General Meeting makes broad decisions about the direction of our work in the year ahead and elects an Executive Committee (EC), which meets regularly to plan and progress our activities.

The Labour CND committee comprises:

- Honorary vice presidents
- Annually elected officers
- Annually elected committee members
- Nation /region /area representatives, appointed in their locality

Everyone who is a member of both CND and the Labour Party is automatically a member of Labour CND and entitled to participate in the annual general meeting – nominating officers and members, submitting resolutions, and voting. Affiliated CLPs, branches and trade unions are also eligible to participate. We organise activities throughout the year, including Labour Party annual conference, and have a regular e-newsletter to keep supporters in touch with what we’re doing. And we play an active role in CND campaigns and structures.
